Boston Beer Appoints New Senior Vice President, Supply Chain

January 8, 2016

BOSTON, Jan. 8, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- The Boston Beer Company, Inc. (NYSE: SAM) (the "Company"), brewers of Samuel Adams beers, announced today that Quincy B. Troupe will be joining the Company as Senior Vice President, Supply Chain in late January, where he will have primary responsibility for brewery management, engineering, safety, production quality, and scheduling.

Mr. Troupe has more than fifteen years of supply chain management experience in the consumer food industry. Since 2013, he has served as Vice President, Manufacturing and Supply Chain Strategy, for the Pepperidge Farm division of Campbell Soup Company, Inc., and from 2010-2013 as Vice President, Supply Chain for Campbell North America. Prior to joining Campbell, Mr. Troupe served in various senior operational roles with Mars, Inc. of McLean, Virginia from 1997-2010.

Martin Roper, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company, said, "Quincy's experience in overseeing the supply chain for business units of respected food and beverage companies will be a great addition to the Company's leadership team. This is particularly important as our supply chain and the diversity of our offerings continue to expand and becomes more complex."

"I have always held The Boston Beer Company in the highest esteem, particularly due to its commitment to brewing quality and innovation," said Mr. Troupe. "I am excited to join the team that will develop and implement the Company's strategies to support its current and future growth."
